

JOHNSON LAW GROUP INTERNATIONAL PLLC

LAWYERS FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT®

Washington DC Headquarters

1321 Pennsylvania Avenue, SE

Washington, DC 20003

202-544-1515 (voice)

866-446-3240 (fax)

www.jlgi.com

Founded in 1985, Johnson Law Group (JLGI) is a law firm that represents individual and business clients in a range of legal issues, including government contracting, business transactions, civil litigation and estate planning and administration. JLGI maintains an international development technical assistance consulting capacity through its Lawyers for International Development® program. Our core administrative and technical staff is located in Washington, D.C. These individuals, together with a network of more than 5,000 highly skilled associates around the world, provide legal and strategic counsel as well as technical assistance to individuals, organizations and firms engaged in international development. JLGI focuses on issues related to rule of law and democracy and governance reform worldwide. Associates of the firm have provided consulting services for a variety of bilateral and multilateral donors, including USAID, the US Department of State, the United Nations, and others.

JLGI's Lawyers for International Development® provides assistance to international donors and their contractors and grantees in the following technical areas:

- Rule of law
- Administrative law
- Regulatory reform
- Commercial law reform
- Land and property rights
- Judicial reform, court management and administration
- Anti-corruption and transparent governance
- Conflict management and mitigation
- Alternative dispute resolution
- National policy reform
- Law and security

Assistance to development assistance organizations includes:

- Proposal development, research and writing
- Business strategy development
- Program assessment, design and implementation
- Training and knowledge transfer
- Performance monitoring and evaluation

JLGI provides legal counsel to international development organizations and individuals:

- Government contracting support
- FAR, OFAC, Patriot Act compliance and opinion letters
- Teaming and subcontracting
- Human resource management; employment contracts
- Wills, trusts and estate and health-care planning
- Confidentiality and intellectual property

For purposes of federal contracting, the firm is a certified small business pursuant to the provisions of the U.S. Small Business Administration; DUNS no. 826323961. JLGI participates in a number of federal government contracting mechanisms, including:

- Analytical Services IQC, USAID
- Anti-corruption IQC, USAID
- Criminal Justice Program Support IDIQ, U.S. Dept. of State
- PEACE IQC, USAID
- Rule of Law IQC, USAID

Further information about how to access these mechanisms is available by calling the JLGI office.

Recent consultancies include:

- Legal policy and Infrastructure development in Turkmenistan for tourism
- Anti-corruption and political processes in Serbia
- Local government reform in Kazakhstan, Tajikistan and Uganda
- Legislative policy strengthening in Azerbaijan
- Democracy and governance assessment in Ethiopia
- Rule of law assessment in Kyrgyzstan
- Facilitation of governance initiatives under Obama-Medvedev Presidential Commission
- Legal frameworks for partnerships under the U.S. Global Development Alliance program
- Assessments of justice sector reform efforts in Jordan and Haiti
- Consultation on anti-corruption and legal reform in Albania and Lesotho
- Administrative law assessment in Bosnia and Herzegovina

What one client says: “The quality of the work was excellent and to the Mission's satisfaction. In terms of the report writing, [the team] demonstrated an excellent knowledge of country context, current state of affairs of BiH administrative legal system, as well as very good analytical skills in suggesting useful findings and recommendations for the Mission's purposes. Therefore, the overall rating for the quality of product or service is excellent.”

--CTO, USAID/BiH

